Let's Start!

Can I have a remedy, please?

Learning Outcome

Relate information about health and healthy habits in communicative situations.

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about common health problems.
- I can explore solutions.
- I can ask and respond to advice.

Ask your partner:

- Do you know some different treatments for a stomach ache? What are they?
- Do you think that natural remedies are effective? Why or why not?

Let's Explore!

Aunt Nelly suggests different remedies. What does Vanessa decide to do?

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- Aunt Nelly: How are you feeling, darling?
Vanessa: Ugh, not great. I have bad stomach cramps.
Aunt Nelly: I'm sorry, honey.
Vanessa: What do you think I should do? You know some remedies, right?
Aunt Nelly: There are a few things you could try. What about peppermint tea?
Vanessa: Hmm ... I'm too hot for tea right now.
Aunt Nelly: You should put a heating pad on your stomach.
Vanessa: Too hot.
Aunt Nelly: Well, you should try some ginger ale or take some antacid.
Vanessa: I googled stomach ache remedies. It says I should take apple cider vinegar.
Aunt Nelly: Don't believe everything you read. I'm getting you some ginger ale. You must get some rest, dear.
Vanessa: Yes, Aunt Nelly.
Aunt Nelly: You look flushed, too. You should put a cool towel on your head.
Vanessa: OK, thanks.

Learning Points

Common Health Problems

What are some remedies or treatments for these problems in your country?
These are some common health problems:

Health Problem	Meaning
Stomachache	A pain in your stomach
Headache	A pain in your head
Earache	A pain your ear
Sore throat	A pain in your throat
A cold	A common sickness caused by a virus
The flu	A serious sickness caused by a virus

Should vs. Must to Talk About Solutions

You use the modal should to give advice.

Example: You should get some rest.

You use the modal must to tell someone what they have to do or need to do. It is very strong.

Example: You must take medicine.

Examples:

- You should get some rest.
- You must eat every day.
- You should drink this tea.
- You must take this medicine.
